Dr. Mark Dawkins
Associate Dean of Academic Programs at the University of Georgia

Dr. Mark Dawkins, Accounting, has been named Associate Dean of Academic Programs at the University of Georgia (UGA). He has served as faculty advisor for The PhD Project Accounting Doctoral Students Association Planning Committee and has always made himself available to students who have needed support, mentoring, and encouragement. He has been on faculty at the University of Georgia since Fall 1994.

The PhD Project is very happy and extremely grateful that individuals such as Dr. Mark Dawkins continue in their efforts to diversify corporate America, provide a nurturing support network to others, but most importantly continue to be an integral part of The PhD Project.
